

DEBS SICK OF JAIL
AND MARTYRDOM

FOUR LABOR LEADERS ANXIOUS FOR FREEDOM.

Instead of "Sharing the Lot of Their Fellow Strikers" They Will Seek to Secure Bail—Volley Fired at Rioters in Indiana by the State Troops.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Debs and his colleagues, Howard, Kelliher and Rogers, do not fancy jail life. They may apply for a release on bail this afternoon despite their declaration that they intended to stay in jail and share the lot of the common strikers. The four leaders of the American Railway Union are prisoners of the United States, held to answer for alleged violation of Judges Woods' and Grosscup's injunction. They were committed by Judge Seaman in default of $3,000 bail to appear next Monday and present their defense to the charge that they are in contempt of court, which was contained in an information filed by the government yesterday morning. Telegrams and orders sent by Debs were contained in the information filed. Debs said nothing in court, but W. W. Erwin, one of his attorneys, made a speech denouncing the whole proceeding as irregular.

Organized labor will protest against the action of the Federal court in sending President Debs to jail. M. H. Madden, state president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, and Edward J. Lindholm, district master workman of the Knights of Labor, have been appealed to to call a meeting for this purpose. The time and place of such meeting has not yet been decided. But it will probably be held next Thursday night.

RE ON THE RIOTERS.

Indiana Troops Drive Off a Body of Train Wreckers.

EAST CHICAGO, Ind., July 18.—An exciting fight between a mob of train wreckers and a company of Indiana state troops took place here at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning. A score or more of shots were exchanged and many stones were thrown by the mob. There were over 100 hoodlums in the mob. They assaulted and drove off with stones the crew of a Chicago & Calumet Terminal oil train which was en route to the Standard oil works. After crippling the engine and removing the signal lights at the rear end of the train they turned a switch so that any train approaching on the Wabash tracks would collide with the oil train. Scarcely had they done this when a Wabash freight came up at the rate of twenty miles an hour. The engineer and fireman saw the open switch in time to save themselves by jumping. The engine crashed into the oil train with such force that twenty cars were thrown into the ditch and the engine was badly wrecked.

Meanwhile the crew of the oil train had reported to Company G of the Fourth regiment, Indiana State Guards, that they had been driven from their train by a mob. The soldiers arrived just after the wreck occurred. The rioters had not gone and a charge was ordered. The wreckers responded with a volley of stones and several pistol shots. Capt. Heinsohn, who was in command of the troops, ordered his men to open fire, and when they did so the wreckers fled. It is believed several of the wreckers were wounded, but this could not be definitely learned. The wrecking train of the Western Indiana road cleared the tracks and removed a number of the wrecked cars.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 18.—Eight companies of Indiana militia at Hammond were relieved from duty by Gov. Matthews yesterday and were succeeded by eight new companies from Angola, Auburn, Waterloo, Decatur, Covington, Crawfordsville, and Fort Wayne, two companies from the last named point being sent. This move is taken by the governor to give all the state militia some experience in lieu of the annual encampment which was to have been held here and which has been declared off.

STRIKERS ARRESTED

Violators of the Federal Court Orders Must Answer for Their Acts.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 18.—Three strikers were arrested here charged with contempt of the Federal court by interfering with trains and gave bonds for their appearance.

SIoux CITY, Iowa, July 18.—Cato Sells, United States attorney, has commenced criminal proceedings against all the local American Railway Union officers, charging them with conspiracy to obstruct the mails.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 18.—Labor agitators Hurley, Harrison and Sperry of Chicago were committed for trial before the United States Circuit court commissioner yesterday.

SHOOT BRIDGE BURNERS.

No Mercy Shown by Regulars—Wreckers Out West Use Explosives.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 18.—It is reported that an advance guard of regulars discovered a man pouring oil on a trestle ten miles east of Livingston preparatory to firing it. The soldiers called to him but he ran, and they shot him dead. The guard near Hone, Idaho, had a similar experience, and the criminal was shot in the same way. HELENA, Mont., July 18.—A Northern Pacific engine was wrecked a few miles east of Missoula by the explosion of twenty pounds of dynamite, which had been placed on the track and was touched off with a railroad torpedo. No one was hurt. The engine was so disabled that it had to be taken back to Missoula and another engine was attached and the train was started east again.

Pullman Shops to Reopen.

CHICAGO, July 18.—All interest at Pullman is now centered on the reopening of the works, which is planned for to-morrow. While no official announcement has been made to that effect it seems to be generally understood that an opportunity will be given to the men to return to work on that day. Local union 290 of the American Railway Union passed resolutions at its regular meeting Monday night to pay no attention to any overtures from the company until a satisfactory understanding was reached whereby the men should all go back together. It is probable that the other unions will take similar action at their next meetings.

Followed by 2,000 Men.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 18.—The funeral of Charles J. Luth, the American Railway Union engineer killed Saturday in an altercation with a clerk of the Omaha railway, was the occasion yesterday of a big demonstration by the union. Over 2,000 men were in the lines, among them members of the American Railway Union, Independent Order of Foresters, Knights of Pythias, and others. The procession which accompanied the remains from the house to the church was over a mile long. Rev. Beers in his funeral sermon scored the corporations and monopolists.

It May Affect the Debs Case.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 18.—Judge Woods left for Chicago last evening. A point was brought out in the hearing of the switchmen of Whitling that may have a bearing on the Debs case. Judge Baker did not think the men had been guilty of contempt of court in simply posting notices calling on the allied railroad brotherhoods to support the A. R. U. The question was so doubtful that Judge Baker let the men go on their own recognizance for a $1,000 bond.

To Compel Performance of Duty.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Attorney-General Olney believes the suit brought at Los Angeles, Cal., against the Southern Pacific railroad is solely for the purpose of compelling it to make the proper effort to transport the mail and interstate commerce. He thinks there is no intention of bringing up the question of the legality of the agreements under which other roads and the Southern Pacific are consolidated.

Are Ready for a Strike.

LIMA, Ohio, July 18.—Two months ago the wages of all trainmen on the Mackinaw were reduced on account of dull times. Committees from the different associations of trainmen, with headquarters at Van Wert, were sent to Toledo to protest against this cut, and were promised by the management that the old rate would be re-established July 15. In event the differences are not amicably settled there will be a strike on the road.

Think His Mind is Affected.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 18.—Ed Holloway of Crawfordsville, who was arrested at Rockville a few hours after the Big Four New York express train was wrecked at Fontanet Friday morning, causing the death of the engineer and fireman, because he talked with too much familiarity about the wreck, made a second confession yesterday acknowledging the crime.

Hocking Valley Strike Ended.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 18.—The strike of the employees of the Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo railroad was settled last night by the acceptance at a meeting at Nelsonville of a proposition from President White to restore all the strikers to their old places except the two leaders, Mark Wild and Sherman Linn and five men under suspension pending an investigation of charges made against them.

Four Hundred Miners at Work.

IRONWOOD, Mich., July 18.—Over 400 men are working at the Norrie, Newport, Fabst and Aurora mines under the protection of militia and a large force of deputy marshals. If the majority of the men return to work the troops will be sent home.

Is Now a Fight for Positions.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 18.—Director Goodwin of the American Railway Union says trains are not moving satisfactorily. "Our men," he said, "are fighting for their old positions," which was the only fight Mr. Goodwin seemed to think was being made just now.

Express Company Lifts a Condition.

CHICAGO, July 18.—The American Express company has issued a circular to its agents withdrawing instructions issued June 25, requiring all shipments to be accepted for "subject to risk of delay on account of strikes."

Defeated the Government.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., July 18.—The elections have resulted in the defeat of the government and the return of fifty-eight free trade, thirty-nine protection and twenty-eight labor members.

MANGLED MEN FILL
SOLDIERS' GRAVES

BURIAL OF THE CHICAGO CAISSON VICTIMS.

Coroner's Jury Holds No One to Blame—Movements of Troops in Sacramento Draws Forth a Protest From the Common Council—Doings of the Military Forces.

CHICAGO, July 18.—The troopers who were killed by the caisson explosion were taken to Ft. Sheridan this morning on a special train. They were buried with military honors. An inquest upon the victims of the caisson explosion at Oakwood and Grand boulevards was held by Deputy Coroner Corbett yesterday. The verdict of the jury was that death was caused by an accidental explosion and its cause unknown.

Military Work Condemned.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 18.—The board of city trustees has adopted resolutions condemning what it terms "the tyranny and brutality which have characterized the conduct of the United States soldiers, who have wounded and assaulted unoffending persons upon the streets." The trustees also condemn the troops "for the free and unprovoked use of their bayonets and guns and for the reckless wounding of innocent citizens."

May Order State Troops

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 18.—Col. Hugh E. Bayle, assistant adjutant-general of the Illinois National guard, has gone to Chicago to confer with Mayor Hopkins regarding the withdrawal of state troops from duty at Chicago.

More Troops Going West.

OMAHA, Neb., July 18.—More troops are going to Cheyenne and Ogden to reinforce those already strung out along the roads.

SUE FOR $470,000,000.

Pennsylvania Man Claims to Be the Heir of Robert Edwards.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., July 18.—Richard Wood Woodward of Marshalltown, near this place, has engaged counsel to bring suit against persons in the city of New York to recover $170,000,000. He claims to be the only living descendant of Robert Edwards, who in 1754 bought thirty-five acres of land where Trinity church now stands. This land was leased to King George for ninety-nine years, at the expiration of which the heirs were called for, but none appeared. The claimant is a great-grandson of the original Edwards' sister Prudence.

Rioters Warned Off.

OSWEGO, N. Y., July 18.—There was an attempt to-day on the part of the striking longshoremen to renew their attack upon the Standard Oil company's dock. The rioters procured boats and attempted to land on the government pier. They were warned off, however, by United States officials. Some non-union men quit work to-day.

Strikers Fire Illinois Central Shops.

MEMPHIS, July 18.—Strikers, at 1 o'clock this morning, set fire to the Illinois Central roundhouse and machine shops at Fort Pickering. The prompt arrival of the fire department prevented the loss of the buildings. Several freight cars were burned.

Says the Strike is Still On.

NEW YORK, July 18.—President Gompers of the Federation of Labor is back from Chicago. He denies that he and Debs had a quarrel and asserts that the railway strike is still on, though admitting that it is local in character.

Indiana Federation of Labor.

PERU, Ind., July 18.—The tenth annual session of the Indiana Federation of Trade and Labor unions began three days' session in this city yesterday with a large attendance. The report of the secretary shows a largely increased membership. A number of resolutions were presented yesterday afternoon, prominent among which were: That arbitration be employed in every case; that the United States control all telegraph lines, and commanding the action of Debs in his recent fight as being that of an able general and urging the necessity of his accepting the nomination for governor of Indiana. All were referred for action to-day.

Say He Coerced the Strikers.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 18.—Assistant Superintendent McKenna of the St. Paul road will be put on the stand at the hearing to-day of the conspiracy cases against the leaders of the American Railway Union. It is asserted by the defense that Mr. McKenna engineered the case for the state and ferreted out all of the witnesses. The defense has endeavored to prove by its cross-examination that he made the return to work of the striking employees conditional on their favorable testimony and telling the secrets of the American Railway Union.

Ranchmen Expect Indians to Rise.

OKLAHOMA, Ok., July 18.—Jasper Jennings, a trustworthy scout and cowboy just in from the Cheyenne and Arapahoe country, reports serious trouble between the Indians and settlers. A rising of the Indians is momentarily expected and the ranchmen are preparing for a conflict.

DEADLY AS A BOMB WAS THE OIL TANK

FATAL EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE IN ST. LOUIS.

Three People Injured So Badly That Death Will Result—They Were Unconscious When Picked Up—Grocery Store Completely Wrecked Daily Record of Fires.

St. Louis, July 18.—A tank of gasoline exploded in Reynold's grocery at 2 o'clock this morning, injuring three seriously. The cause of the explosion is unknown. The store was wrecked and the injured ones were unconscious when picked up.

Part of Bonville, Ill., Burned.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., July 18.—Last evening the Champaign fire company went by special train to Bonville, a village seven miles west of here, a report being sent that the whole town was on fire. The citizens of that place having no means of extinguishing the flames were helpless and the whole south side of the little village was soon in flames. The loss is estimated at $5,000; insurance, $4,000.

FORESTS ARE ON FIRE.

Many Towns Threatened with Complete Destruction.

DULUTH, Minn., July 18.—Forest fires again threaten the destruction of thousands of dollars in pine and other property in northern Wisconsin and Minnesota. The long drought of the summer has produced its usual effect of forest and brush fires. In every direction dozens of villages are threatened. Duluth and Superior are enveloped in a cloud of smoke. All trains entering Duluth report fires all along the lines. Back of St. Louis, New Duluth and Fond du Lac the fires are unusually severe, and all these villages are threatened, though no destruction of life or property is as yet reported. All along the Mesabian range, from the towns which were practically wiped out a little more than a year ago when conditions were much as they are now, fires are reported and also along the line of the Duluth & Winnipeg.

HINCKLEY, Minn., July 17.—Forest fires are burning the town of Partridge, and the Hinckley fire department has been called on for help. It dares not go, however, as this village is in constant danger. Everything in Partridge is burned.

A Second Nomination Made.

HAMMOND, Ind., July 18.—There was a republican convention yesterday at which Judge William Johnson of Valparaiso was unanimously nominated for congress. Judge Johnson is the second candidate to be nominated by the republicans of the Tenth congressional district. Charles B. Landis was nominated May 24 in a convention at which were present nearly 3,000 republicans of this district. Judge Johnson was defeated at that convention, but his managers claimed his defeat was brought about by unfair means. As a result they called another convention.

Banquet to Yale Athletes.

LONDON, July 18.—The Yale athletic team was entertained by 175 members of the American colony in London at a banquet at the Criterion restaurant last night. Ambassador Bayard presented and Gen. Patrick Collins, the United States consul-general, acted as vice-president. The hall was decorated with the United States and British flags and the insignia of the various states, including Utah, the bill for the admission of which as a state was signed by President Cleveland yesterday.

Birmingham Rioters Under Arrest.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 18.—Birmingham is in a high fever of excitement over the attacks of striking miners on the non-union men and deputy sheriffs at Pratt mines. Fifty-four strikers were arrested yesterday, and fifty more will be arrested to-day. Two unsuccessful attempts to burn loaded freight cars were made in the Georgia Pacific yards last night. An attempt was also made to wreck passenger train No. 4 on the Louisville & Nashville road shortly after midnight last night.

Wreck at East St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 18.—A very bad wreck occurred on the Louisville & Nashville railway near East St. Louis last night at 7:05. An out-going through freight crashed into the rear end of a switch engine,

CONGRESS WILL MOVE SLOWLY.

Labor Commissioners Selected With Care—Best Men Obtainable Will Serve.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Senators Kyle and White have been getting their heads together this week in regard to the selection of the labor commission by the President of the United States, and a suggestion has been that Dakota should be represented in the make-up of this body. It is the intention of the President, however, to proceed very deliberately and nothing is likely to be done without the further advice of Senator Palmer. It has been left to the Illinois senator to get up a list of names from which the President can make a choice of an Illinoisan as provided in the statute, and this task will probably be completed to-day. The President is disposed to act with the greatest circumspection in choosing men of national reputation whose findings are likely to carry weight with the entire American public.

WORK FOR SENATOR VOORHEES.

Has to Report to Republican Conference the Tariff Disagreements.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—At the first formal conference on the tariff bill yesterday Senator Voorhees, as head of the democratic conferees, made a formal and full statement of the situation. He said that no discourtesy to the republicans had been intended. The meetings had not been conference meetings, but had been confined to an effort to bring about some settled policy among the democratic conferees. Senator Voorhees added that he was frank to confess the efforts toward agreement had not proved successful. The features of disagreement were then gone into at considerable length by Mr. Voorhees and his associates. They stated that the sugar, coal, metal, woolen, and cotton schedules had been the chief bones of contention, but did not give particulars in any case except in that of sugar, with reference to which they stated that the house members had indicated a willingness to grant some duty on that article, but had objected to the differential duty on refined sugar. In the general discussion the republican conferees gathered that sugar, iron ore, coal, the woolen schedule, cotton schedule, and silver lead bearing ores, were the chief questions of disagreement. There was no program outlined, and the conference adjourned until 2 o'clock to-day.

As a result of the meeting the republican conferees concluded that a general disagreement would be reported to both houses within a few days. At the close of the meeting Chairman Wilson stated no exact plan was in view for reporting back to congress. It is believed, however, that a plan will be developed to-day, and that the report of disagreement will be made to the senate and house within the next two days.

Charges of Fraud and Favoritism.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—In the senate yesterday a resolution introduced by Mr. Vest reciting that charges of favoritism and fraud had been made by the exhibitors at the recent Chicago World's Fair Exposition against the committee on awards and directing the committee on quadragenarian to investigate the charges was referred to the committee on contingent expenses.

The following house bills were passed:

To authorize the construction of a bridge over the Mississippi river at Dubuque, Iowa, and providing for the resurvey of Grant and Hooker counties, Neb.

Bankruptcy Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Bailey bankruptcy bill was passed yesterday. The house also concurred in the senate amendments to the bill extending the time for making final proof on entreaties under the preemption act. The senate amendments to the river and harbor bill were nonconcurrent in and the bill was sent to conference.

Favor Thistle Extermination.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—By a vote of 25 to 22 the senate has refused to sustain a point of order against Hansbrough's $1,000,000 thistle extermination amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill.

Utah Bill Signed.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The President has signed the bill to permit Utah to hold a constitutional convention and be admitted into the union as a state.

India Wheat Acreage Increase.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The area of the current year's wheat crop in India (1892-'94) is estimated at 27,282,000 acres, compared with 26,429,000 acres, the revised estimate of last year's acreage. The total production of 1893 is placed at 6,923,000 tons or 253,458,607 bushels of sixty pounds. The average product is given at 260,437,333 bushels, showing this year's crop to be 2,000,000 bushels below normal and 10,000,000 bushels below that of the previous year.

signed the Scale.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 18.—The Illinois Steel company signed the scale for the Bay View works to-day and 600 men will start work to-morrow morning.

When Diderot spoke of the dirty bodies of the Russian peasants, Catherine of Russia said: "Why should they care for their bodies when they do not belong to them?"

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK
FELT IN THE SOUTH

MEMPHIS PEOPLE TERRIFIED BY THE VISITATION.

They Rush From Their Homes Fearing that the Walls are About to Fall—St. Louis Quivers From a Slighter Shock—Three Shocks Were Experienced.

MEMPHIS, July 18.—Three shocks of an earthquake were felt here this morning. They caused considerable alarm, many people rushing from the buildings in terror.

St. Louis, July 18.—Slight earthquake shocks were felt here to-day.

MOB HANGS A TRAMP.

Quick Work Is Made of the Man Who Assaulted Farmer Whitlock.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 18.—Louis La Fodotte, a tramp, was taken from jail at Burlington, Ky., by a mob at an early hour this morning and hanged. A few days ago he attempted to hold up William Whitlock, a farmer, and in the scuffle Whitlock received injuries that may cause his death. The mob was composed of twenty or thirty masked men who came from the direction of the Ohio river. They took him to the woods about a mile from the jail and hanged him to a tree. The mob dispersed, leaving the man hanging. Great precaution was taken by the men to conceal their identity. They did not allow any one within 300 feet of the hanging. Not a shot was fired during the entire proceeding.

MANY MINERS WERE KILLED.

Twelve Coal Diggers Are Blown to Pieces—Fearful Explosion.

HAZELETON, Pa., July 18.—Two hundred sticks of giant powder exploded in the midst of a gang of miners at Stockton colliery yesterday, and not enough of the men's bodies was left for identification. On account of the distance of the Stockton colliery from the main breaker it has been customary to send the dynamite and other explosives in boxes to No. 8 and distribute them to the workmen at the bottom of the second shaft as they appear in the morning on their way to work. It was Charles O'Donnell's duty to distribute the dynamite and caps. The first men to go down into the shaft to-day were the drivers, and these were the only ones to return alive from the opening. How many men or who they were who followed in the next boat will not be known until a list of the living is taken.

The drivers went into the stables to harness their mules, and it was while they were thus engaged that the explosion took place. Charles Shugart says he saw about a dozen men standing about O'Donnell receiving their powder a moment before the explosion took place. The drivers were hurled about promiscuously. The men were paralyzed with fright, and fearing that an explosion of gas had taken place and that a collapse of the entire mine was about to follow, they waited for death as though paralyzed.

It was in this position that they were found by some miners from No. 2 who hastened through the subterranean passageways to No. 3. As soon as lights were seen the demoralized drivers hastened to the bottom of the shaft. There the terrible sight met their gaze. Strawn over the twisted and torn timbers were fragments of human flesh and bones and limbs of the unfortunate miners. The men were too much affected to attempt to remove the remains of the dead.

Rescuing parties were quickly formed and, headed by Superintendent Roderick, a corps of miners descended into the mine. The work of recovering the bodies was at once begun, but it was a difficult task. Fragments of human flesh were found some distance up the slope clinging to the rails and ties and sticking to the roof, while everywhere were bones and limbs.

After surveying the work of destruction Foreman Shugart emerged from the pit and instituted preparations to bring the remains of the victims to the surface. The dismembered fragments were put together as well as possible at the bottom of the slope. After all had been arranged the hoisting to the surface commenced. In order that the feelings of the relatives might be spared it was arranged to hoist each box to the top of the tower and from there take them to their several homes. As each box appeared on the surface an agonizing wail went up from the multitude in waiting. Women tore their hair and shrieks of agony rent the air. The officials did everything possible to assuage their grief, but very little could be done. The names of the victims are:

CHARLES O'DONNELL, aged 25, married.

ANDREW JABOL, aged 38, married.

JOHN PRIBONE, aged 22, single.

JOHN KOEHLER, aged 23, single.

ANTHONY MORCAVITZ, aged 25, single.

JOHN KRINOCK, aged 28, married.

JOHN MOTEFESKI, aged 24, married.

JOHN BRIZZON, aged 25, single.

Attempt to Wreck a Panhandle Train.

VALPARAISO, Ind., July 18.—An attempt was made last night to wreck the fast express on the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad at Kouts, this county, by drawing the rail spikes. No damage was done.

"THE DIE IS CAST, THE RUBICON IS CROSSED."

The $10,000 Stock Is Here.

Never in the history of Janesville will such High Grade shoes be offered for as little money. The very shoes that we offer you for from $1 up; cannot possibly be bought in any other house in the city for less than double.

We bought for 55 cents on the dollar. We will let our customers have them likewise. We don't care to make a cent during July and August. The goods just received are paid for, spot cash did it. We have money enough on hand to buy another $10,000 stock or two, possibly three. Listen to those poor demented, would be competitors howl. It hurts them. They can't sell their stuff for twice what it cost them while we are here

We are the Public's Benefactors in the Shoe Business.

We have the majority of the trade. How quick we got it. Probably our sleepy competitors can tell. The 83 cases arrived this morning, all full cases. They are being unpacked, the goods marked and placed in readiness for your inspection.

We actually guarantee to sell you a shoe for $1 that is positively not sold for less than $2 at any other store in the city.

COME IN AND SEE IF WE ARE NOT RIGHT.

A DIAMOND FROM THE DEPTHS

How Captain Peterson Got Rich Salvage From Lake Erie.

"Captain John Peterson of Dunkirk and the lake Erie tugboat Staufer," said a New York commercial traveler to a Journal man, "has a diamond ring, which, aside from its rare value, is prized almost beyond price by its possessor, owing to the singular manner in which it came into his possession."

Captain Peterson is one of the oldest lake skippers in the service, and he keeps at it now just because he likes it, for he doesn't have to, as he has laid by a snug something for all the rainy days that may come as long as he lives. One night a year or so ago the captain's wife awoke, somewhere along about midnight, and heard someone in her room. She screamed a scream that woke her husband wide open, and he saw a man hurrying toward the window of the room. The captain jumped out of bed and got to the window in time to grab and recover his wife's $300 sealskin coat, which the burglar had under his arm. But the thief got away.

"Next morning the captain discovered that his gold watch and chain were gone. The timepiece was worth $150, and Captain Peterson went out on the lake that morning feeling blue enough."

"The business that called him out on the lake that morning was to haul in a number of seines which had been dragged by a heavy storm three miles from where they had been set. He felt so bad over the loss of his watch that he tried to get some other tugboat master to take the job off his hands, but everybody was busy, and the captain had to go himself."

"When the last seine had been hauled in he saw something sparkle in the sun on the edge of the net. He looked to see what it was, and was astonished to find a ring entangled in the cords. It was black with mud all but in one spot, and that sparkled like an electric light. When the captain came ashore he took his singular find to a jeweler and asked him what it was worth. When the jeweler told him that the sparkle came from a diamond and that the ring was good for the best $500 bill that was ever turned out, Captain Peterson forgot all about being blue over the loss of his watch."

"The jeweler said that the ring had undoubtedly been many years at the bottom of the lake. It might have belonged to someone who went down with one of the numerous wrecks that occur every year on lake Erie. Captain Peterson had several offers of more than twice the market value of the ring for it, but he refused them all."

Schulze is the Smith of Germany. Some one has been drawing up a list of the commonest names in Germany. From this it appears that Schulze takes the palm, although he is closely followed by Meyer, and Lehmann and Neumann come at a respectable distance. The practical inconvenience of having so many people of the same name has been obviated by the Prussian education department, who distinguish the bearers as historians distinguished the numerous Louises and Charleses. On its register there is a Schulze LV., a Meyer XLVII., a Lehmann XIX., and a Neumann XIV. It is said that an ingenious person once obtained a seat in a crowded pit in a Berlin theater by shouting: "There is a fire at Schulze's house." Instantly all the Schulzes sprang to their feet and made for the door, leaving the theater half empty.

Dog Sense.

The question has frequently been raised, "Do dogs understand remarks made about them in conversation? I think they do, and I will tell you the reason why. I once had a little terrier whose eye had accidentally been seriously injured. I remarked to my wife that I intended to call in a surgeon to see if he could not do something to cure it. The dog, which was lying on a rug near by, immediately got up and left the room. I went after the doctor, but on his arrival the terrier was nowhere to be found. I called him repeatedly, but without avail. At last, after a long search, I found him hid upstairs in a closet. When I carried him downstairs he whined piteously and evinced a strong dislike for the surgeon, and would scarcely allow himself to be touched by him."

Monona Lake Assembly.

For the Monona Lake Assembly to be held in Madison July 24 to August 3, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway will sell round trip excursion tickets July 23 to August 3 at a fare and a third, good for return until August 4.

IT'S EASY TO GET IN, where there's a sluggish liver, for any of the germs of disease that surround you. If your liver were active and healthy, it would keep them out of your blood. You'll have to watch your liver for self-protection.

Just as soon as you see the first symptoms that it's wrong (eruptions on the skin, or a dull and worn-out feeling) you ought to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That will start your liver into a healthy, natural action, purify your blood, too; it will brace up your whole system, and give you strength and color, and put on needed flesh—not fat, but wholesome, necessary flesh.

Dr. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir— I heartily recommend your "Discovery" to any person suffering from general debility as the best thing they can take for it. After taking the "Discovery" I am happy to say I never felt better in my life than I do now.

DAUGHTERS OF EVE.

Frances—Elise is just daft about bric-a-brac, isn't she? Adele—I should say so! Why I heard this morning that she was going to marry a base-ball pitcher.

As an excuse for dead birds being used in millinery, it is stated that some soft-hearted women are having their departed pets stuffed, and then ornamenting "In Memoriam" bonnets with them.

Mrs. Lizzie Smith of Flemingsburg, Ky., has been awarded $10 by a jury in a suit brought against Mrs. Jennie Soudley for damages for placing the sharp end of a pin uppermost in her church pew.

Young Husband—What? You are 25 years old to-day? Why, you told me a year ago, just before the wedding, that you were only 20! Young Wife, wearily—I know I did, love; but I have aged rapidly since.

Gloves figure largely in the list of necessary expenditures by the wives of cabinet officers, as upon each official entertainment when they, with the president and his wife, constitute the receiving party, a pair of white gloves must be sacrificed.

A Kentucky mathematician has figured out some statistics on gum chewing. He says that the jaws of a small-mouthed young woman who is addicted to this habit move 6,750,000 inches, or 103 miles a year, at the rate of thirty chews a minute for ten hours a day.

"Never mind the cost, dear, choose just what you like" said a gentleman recently to a lady whom he had taken into a jeweler's shop in Greenock, Scotland. A ring, value 11 guineas, was finally chosen and laid aside. Then half an hour later the gentleman reappeared and requested that the jewels in the ring be replaced by "paste diamonds" and forwarded to the lady's house.

A fine example of the old-time couples are Mr. and Mrs. Tolman of Rockland, Me. They were married sixty-three years ago, and have kept up many of the old customs with which they commenced housekeeping. The fire yet burns on their hearth, with tongs, bellows and shovel in convenient proximity. Mrs. Tolman in her girlhood days wove the first carpet that was made in Rockland, and has spun yarn for knitting regularly until this year. She has a muff and boa made from the last bear killed within the limits of old Thomaston.

DENTISTS ALL TOIL DESPITE THE HEAT

CONVENTION SESSIONS FULL OF GOOD IDEAS.

Boat Ride For the Visitors This Evening—Another Old Folks Concert—Lawn Social at Mayor Thoroughgood's Home—Janesville's Hot Houses Stripped of Blossoms.

DENTISTS stripped off their coats this morning and prepared for hard work. Every moment was devoted to discussions of practical topics. A resolution was adopted that all resident physicians be invited to be present and participate in the deliberations. Dr. A. A. Wendel, of Kewaskum; Dr. A. J. Cohn, of Milwaukee; Dr. W. D. Tickner, of Milton Junction; Dr. R. J. Wenker, of Watertown; Dr. William M. McCullum, of LaCrosse; Drs. O. G. Bennett, Charles T. Peirce and R. J. Hart, of Janesville; Dr. H. F. Dean of Whitewater, and Dr. B. C. Campbell, of Lake Geneva and Dr. A. Johnston, of Waupun, were elected to membership. The president's address was read, appealing for a state dental museum. A paper by Dr. H. A. Palmer, of Janesville, on "Some Thoughts About the Sixth Year Molar," proved a valuable one, and provoked a great deal of discussion. "Prosthetic Dentistry," by Dr. C. W. Bennett, of Monroe, was another strong paper. The dentists will take an excursion on the river this evening by boat, and a cordial invitation was extended to all visiting and professional gentlemen and their ladies to take the trip. To-morrow the dentists will devote the morning to a series of clinics, in the Armory.

W. H. SARGENT W. R. C. have decided to hold a series of lawn socials. For the first one Mayor Thoroughgood and his esteemed wife have kindly granted the use of their beautiful grounds, Friday evening, July 20 being the date. There will be music and short speeches and cake and ice cream will be served. The public are cordially invited.

THERE is not the remotest possibility that the Chicago & Northwestern railway will be short of hands in their local yards, judging by the broad smiles worn by Yardmaster David Griffin. He has a little yardmaster at his home, on Gold street, who in a few years will make things lively, if not in the railway yards, he will be heard in the door yards.

THE First M. E. church and Sunday school will hold a picnic at Crystal Springs on Friday, July 20. Music will be furnished by the church orchestra. The steamer Columbia will leave her Fourth avenue dock at 9:45 a. m., at 2 and 4 p. m. Sunday school scholars free; adults twenty-five cents for round trip.

ON Mark Honeysette's ample lawn St. Agnes Guild of Trinity church served cream and cake last night. There was excellent music to add to the charm of the moonlight. A bus was run from McLean's drug store for the accommodation of those who desired, and the affair was thoroughly enjoyable.

CHIEF ACHESON and Officer Hogan dragged a cellar full of drunken boys from under Stanton's grocery store on Main street, this afternoon. The boys had gotten in by the back way and were supplied with whisky by two bums. All of the party were taken to jail.

THE Park Hotel was the head quarters for delegates to the republican convention, and this popular hostelry had the appearance of state fair time. Two hundred and twenty five dinners were served, and everybody seemed happy.

LIVERYMEN cannot afford to pass this sale of buggies, wagonets and high grade vehicles. We are selling cheap. Come. Janesville Carriage Works.

THE "Old Fashioned People" who gave such an enjoyable entertainment at the First Methodist church recently, will repeat their Old Folks' concert at the Baptist church next Friday evening July 27.

THE Janesville Zouaves will drill this evening at Shurtleff's hall. All members are requested to be present and those who wish to join are also requested to be present at 7:30 o'clock sharp.

WARREN P. BEHAN, of Chicago, who is spending a few days in this city graduated in June from the Chicago University. He will enter the Chicago Theological seminary for a three years' course next week.

THE Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company will sell excursion tickets on July 17 to 20, good to return until July 21, at a fare and a third for round trip, on account of the Waukesha races.

JANESVILLE candidates for sheriff are beginning to scratch ground. They fear that R. P. Maltress, of Edgerton, is making things lively in the north part of the county.

THE Silver Stars defeated the Jackson Street Cranks by a score of ten to six. Battery for Silver Stars were Delaney, Pope and Cronin, while for Jackson Street Cranks Duller, Dorsey and Funk played the points.

THOSE who have tried Shaw's fruit juices for a summer drink recommend them very highly. They come in five flavors, nicely bottled, with full directions, can be had only at Dunn Bros.

CHEAMERY butter to-day at Grubb Bros. in three and five-pound jars, at nineteen cents a pound. Nothing finer in the world. Grubb Bros.

MRS. MARY CROSBY and daughter, and Miss Mary Crosby, left this morning for Chicago, intending to take a boat at that city over the lake to Michigan ports.

SILK belts, with handsome filigree, chain and beautiful satin finish buckles, with plain center for monogram, and many other beautiful styles at F. C. Cook & Co's.

JANESVILLE hot houses are bare. The flower beds are being dug over to prepare for another season, and Janesville orders are sent to Rockford and Milwaukee.

BELOIT'S Y. M. C. A. ball team will come to Janesville next Friday and try conclusions with the Janesville boys. It promises to be a very interesting game.

We have several buggies that we built with the intention of selling for $100. To close out they may go for $75 each. Janesville Carriage Works.

Mrs. W. T. IRONSIDE and four children of St. Louis, are visiting Mr. Ironside's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Nelson, 158 Center Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brown, Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Requa, Charles McDonnell and Miss Nellie McDonnell, are in camp at Second Lake.

W. W. HEAFFORD, district passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, was in the city last evening bound west.

J. H. LEAS, the county missionary has gone to Rossville, Iowa, for a few days to look after home matters. He was accompanied by his wife.

THIS is belt season. We have Janesville's choicest collection, and here the belt business centers. F. C. Cook & Co.

HOWARD W. TILTON, of the Council Bluffs department Omaha Bee, is shaking hands with old Janesville friends.

ONE half dozen wagonettes at the Janesville Carriage Works for sale very cheap. Will carry eight to ten passengers.

MEMBERS of Wisconsin Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. assemble in regular weekly meeting this evening at Odd Fellows hall, North Main street.

M. L. RICHARDSON has his new house ready for the finishing work, but has to wait for doors, on account of the railroad trouble.

A NIGHT-blooming cereus unfolded last night at C. J. Jones' house and many friends admired the blossom.

THE first watermelon of the season can be found at Sam Goldfarb's Chicago fruit store, 6 South Main street.

MR. and Mrs. Walter Helms will spend two weeks at Lauderdale lake, going into camp next week.

MR. and Mrs. George Linda, of Fourth avenue, are rejoicing over a handsome eight-pound baby.

WE guarantee to get rid of your bed bugs, roaches, moths and ants, or refund the twenty-five cents. Grubb Bros.

LARGE fat mackerel, the first new catch of the season, fifteen cents a pound at Grubb Bros.

THE finest Swiss, American and brick cheese ever in the market can be had at Dunn Bros.

THE Misses Laura and Mildred Travers, of Beloit, are the guests of Miss Edna Johnson.

CAPTAIN PLINY NORCROSS went to Waukesha last evening and thence to St. Paul.

NEW watermelons very cheap, first of the year, at Sam Goldfarb's 6 South Main St.

DR. T. F. McKEY, of Whitewater, is here attending the dental convention.

A LARGE stock family and teachers bibles. Call and see them at Sutherland's bookstore.

MR. and Mrs. Earl are entertaining a new baby boy at their home on Milton avenue.

EMERY BURDICK is engaged in building a house, north of Clear Lake.

HENRY DILLENBECK is putting up a fine new house on Milton avenue.

ARNOLD CANIFF's new house on Sarah street is nearing completion.

THE best and cheapest baby cabs in the city at Sutherland's bookstore.

Mrs. A. D. BURDICK has gone to Walworth to visit her daughter.

MISS LOTTIE RISON, of Milton, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. E. Burdick.

MISS JULIA VANKIRK went to Chicago this morning.

"Old Folks Concert" at Baptist church, Friday evening, July 27.

Mrs. LOU HEMMENS is spending a week in Oshkosh.

SOUTH Main street is a "Hard road to travel", just now.

GRACE GLENN is attending the summer school.

FRED NORCROSS is in St. Paul.

WATERMELONS at Goldfarb's.

THREE LITTLE GIRLS RAN AWAY Parents Can Find No Trace of a Trio of Self-Willed Maids.

Three little girls, all under fifteen, disappeared last night and the police have been seeking them all day. They are Josie O'Neil, Josie Cone and Carrie Farmer. Early last evening they said they "were going to Beloit, if they had to walk." Their parents are nearly frantic and can get no trace of them.

Makin-Finch.

Rev. W. F. Requa married George W. Makin of Springvale, Maine, and Miss Alice Finch of this city, at the parsonage 201 South Bluff street, July 5. Mr. and Mrs. Makin left today for an extended trip through the eastern states, stopping at Niagara and other points of interest. They will make their future home in Maine.

COMPROMISE MADE IN THE CONVENTION

CASWELL GETS ABOUT HALF THE DELEGATES.

Plan Decided Upon that Will Insure Greater Harmony in the First District than Would Follow the Other Course—Names of the Men Selected.

Compromise delegates were chosen by the county convention. Over half the men named will favor Caswell in the end, but will stand for the interest of the First district primarily. W. T. Vankirk called the convention to order, Henry Tarrant was elected chairman, and E. F. Hanson of Beloit, secretary. These delegates to the state convention were named:

First District—P. W. Wilder, I. H. Brink, O. P. Gaarder, E. F. Hanson, L. Holden Parker.

Second District—Cham Ingersoll, W. W. Clarke, C. H. Everett, W. O. Newhouse.

Third District State Delegates—David Conger, James A. Fathers, T. B. Earle, and E. O. Kimberly, Mr. Kimberly being elected as provisional delegate.

Congressional Delegates—F. S. Winslow, C. B. Downing, A. S. Flagg, E. M. Hardy was elected as provisional delegate.

On motion of Mr. Ingersoll the delegates were instructed to vote as a unit.

Also to secure a larger representation in future state conventions.

The county nominating convention will be held September 7, the date being fixed by the county committee this morning.

The congressional delegates were: First District—J. S. Lynch, Arthur Broughton, Holden Parker, W. H. Appleby, R. R. Winslow.

Second District—U. G. Waite, J. R. Kilmer, C. W. Stark, C. Ingersoll.

To Our Patrons.

We take great pride in presenting the line of vehicles we have for inspection, and we feel assured that they are without exception the hardiest, most complete, and cheapest line ever exhibited by one manufacturer in this part of the country. For style, finish, quality and price they are absolutely unapproachable. By calling at our repository you will be amply repaid for your examination. JANESVILLE CARRIAGE WORKS.

Wanted Them to Enjoy Life, Too. Little Mabel (one of a family of seven) recently went to visit an aunt, where she evidently had a very good time. The morning after her return she was unusually silent at breakfast, and not long after her mother inquired: "Well, Mabel, what are you thinking about?"

To which the little maid replied with a sigh of deep satisfaction: "Oh, I'm so glad that my children will have plenty of aunts and uncles!"—Judge.

A Treasure. Mr. Hardsense—You have no accomplishments. Miss Biddings?

Miss Biddings—No. Mr. Hardsense—And you have never been taught how to cook at a fashionable cooking school?

Miss Biddings—Never. Mr. Hardsense (with energy)—Will you be my wife?—Chicago Record.

A Rush of Business. A—You say Smythe's new store on the avenue is closed?

B—Yes, it's shut up. "Why, I thought it was doing an immense business."

"That's just what busted it up. It was always so crowded that nobody could get into it."—Tammany Times.

Always Right. Old M. D.—What did your patient die of?

Young M. D.—Don't know what it was.

Old M. D.—Never confess your ignorance. In case of doubt call it heart failure.—Arkansas Traveler.

A New Definition. "What does electrocution mean?" asked Miss Five Years.

"Electrocution means death by electricity." (This was whispered at a reading.) "Then," she answered, "electrocution must mean being talked to death."—N. Y. Advertiser.

His Experience. "Papa, did you ever see a king?" "Yes, my son."

"Did you, really? My! How did you feel when you saw him? How did you do, pa?"

"I didn't do anything, my son—the other man had seen."—N. Y. World.

When Needed. Husband (preparing to go to the club)—You kick at everything I do. You used to say I was the light of your life.

Wife—So you are yet. That's the reason I don't want you to go out at night.—Puck.

Enjoying a Joke. Jimson—I just tell you, you can't find a man anywhere who enjoys a good joke better than I do.

Friend—Guess that's so. I have heard you tell the same joke forty times, and laugh at it every time.—N. Y. Weekly.

What It Was. "Don't weep, my dear; there is one great consolation."

"Yes, I know there is. I have had a great many to tell me that black became more than anything else."—Atlanta Constitution.

How Prima Donnas Are Made. "Miss Twilkins has gone to Italy to cultivate her voice."

"Dear me! I didn't know she could afford it."

"The neighbors subscribed the money."—Answers.

BAD CHECK PASSED ON ROSENFELD

Paper Bearing a Forged Endorsement Presented in Payment for Clothing.

There was nothing to show that the check was bad but it cost S. Rosenfeld $40.54 none the less. It was presented by a man who bought a $19.50 suit of clothes, and it was on the Merchants' & Mechanics' bank, signed by the Center Creamery Co., by "F. A. V."—Fred A. Vankirk. The check was payable to Wat Tobin or order and was duly endorsed.

Mr. Rosenfeld examined the paper and asked the customer if his name was Tobin. He replied that it was not; that he was working for Mr. Tobin and that the latter owed him, but not as much as the check called for, but he would pay Mr. Tobin the balance in cash. Mr. Rosenfeld took the check out to ascertain if the signature was all right, and being satisfied with it he accepted it and gave the stranger the balance due him in cash, $21.04, and he departed.

Before the clothing man banked his check Tobin had been around and stopped payment. He said the check was stolen from his hired man's pocket book by a stranger. Other checks are believed to have been stolen at the same time. The endorsement on the Tobin check was written in a full round hand, and as soon as the check was shown to Mr. Vankirk he saw immediately that it was not Mr. Tobin's signature.

NOT MUCH MONEY IN FURNITURE.

Annual Meeting of the Hanson Furniture Factory Last Evening

W. T. Vankirk, W. F. Carle, John G. Rexford, L. Englebreton, S. Trulson, were elected directors of the Hanson Furniture Company at the annual meeting of stockholders at the council chamber last evening. Colonel W. B. Britton and Hon. Alex. Graham declined a re-election. The secretary, Hans Trofton submitted his report which was accepted.

"We have not not made money this season," said President Vankirk. "Last year we did a very fair business, and had quite a little surplus. The general stagnation in business struck us as hard last year as it has other institutions."

A stockholder, who is employed at the factory, remarked: "We are all shut down now. A number of hands were employed regularly until the Chicago strike. That strike compelled us to shut down everything, and lock up the factory. We can't do anything. Few people realize how the strike injures such institutions, even a hundred miles away from the real trouble."

BAD CHECK GOT HIM IN JAIL.

J. J. Kelly Tries to Cover Worthless Paper With More Like It.

J. J. Kelly got Adam Holt to endorse a worthless draft for $30 three weeks ago. He came to town last night and was locked in jail before he had finished admiring the first electric light. Kelly travels for liquor houses and caught Johnson Brothers of Beloit, with a bad check for $40 the same as he did Mr. Holt. He kept under cover for three weeks, then began to travel on his nerve, and faced the Johnsons with a proposition to give them liquor warehouse receipts to cover their $40 loss. They took the receipts and found them worthless. Kelly tried the same game here but couldn't get the receipts in general circulation. He beat J. F. Sweeney out of a small board bill and Patrolman Hogan then jailed him and sent him to Beloit in Marshal Appleby's hands.

INSANE MAN ROAMING THE WOODS

Wm. McCarty Escapes from the Asylum and Hides Near Spaulding's Lake.

William McCarty, the wild man of Spaulding's woods, who for so long a time disturbed the quiet people of Harmony, and who was taken to the insane asylum some weeks ago, has escaped and returned to his old haunts. Complaints reached the city this morning that McCarty was again at large, and that he was again committing his depredations near Spaulding's lake. The officers will undoubtedly take care of him.

OUR BONDS ILLEGAL

CHICAGO BANKS SAY
COMMON COUNCIL DID NOT HAVE AUTHORITY.

Issue Was Made Without Due Warrant and the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank Decides Not to Take the Lot Unless More Satisfactory Arrangements are Made.

Janesville's new high school building will not be constructed this year. At least such are the indications at present. The school board as well as the common council and city authorities supposed that everything was moving along in the right channel, and that work would soon begin. The school board engaged an architect to prepare the plans and specifications. The bonds were sold some weeks ago to the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, of Chicago, at a good premium. This bid, as were all others, was with a proviso that the issue of the bonds was legal. The bank now sends Mayor Thoroughgood a letter declining to accept the bonds. Lack of authority on the part of the common council to issue bonds, is alleged.

Mayor Thoroughgood was seen this afternoon and said he was somewhat surprised. "I have not decided just what to do, but for the present I shall not do anything, just let the matter rest."

McElroy Thinks the Bonds Legal.

City Attorney McElroy insists that the bonds have been legally issued, and does not coincide with the opinion of the bank attorneys.

"The same points were raised in Milwaukee on a bond issue, and the matter has been taken to the supreme court. It may be winter before a decision is reached," said the attorney. "Some of these points were raised by one or two attorneys here when the action for issuing the bonds came up, but I believe our action has been right and will stand."

Further progress toward the construction of a high school building will be stayed until it is determined what move to make.

HELPFUL HINTS
FOR HOUSEWIVES

CURRENT HINTS AND SUGGESTIONS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

Some New Designs in Woman's Wearing Apparel—For Small Girls—Some Recipes for the Culinary Department—Notes of Fashion.

The smaller the girl the larger the hat, seems to be Dame Fashion's idea nowadays. Wide brimmed leghorn hats and hats of coarse straw are picturesquely bent to protect the small faces beneath from the too ardent rays of the summer sun.

A French hat for a young lady of 7 is made of fancy straw, black and butter color combined. Silk petalled scarlet poppies are ranged in a cluster at the side and nod their heads over a generous bow of scarlet satin ribbon. Leghorn hats are abloom with flowers and a delicate shade of crepe de Chine is used to face the bendable brim. One of the prettiest leghorn hats seen this season was trimmed with Marguerites. The crown was almost covered by a rosette of white silk mulle. Under the wide brim a row of tiny white rosettes rested upon the hair. Platted satin ribbon or lawn is a new trimming for children's hats. Sometimes it is arranged to entirely cover the brim.

Use of False Hair.

For some years past there has been an earnest effort on the part of certain would-be fashion leaders to introduce styles of hair-dressing that demand false hair. But, up to date, the idea has met with but scant encouragement.

The women of the present generation remember with disgust and weariness the enormous pads and puffs of a few years back, and shrink from giving any countenance to a fashion at once unhygienic, tiresome and disfiguring.

It is possible to arrange even a very small amount of hair in an artistic and becoming way, and this the sensible women of the country have not been slow to find out. A few carefully managed puffs and twists set close to the head, and a few judiciously distributed fancy pins are much more desirable than the enormous weight that fashion formerly prescribed. It was no unusual thing in those days to wear a couple of switches or braids weighing from three to five ounces each. Headaches and affections of the scalp were alarmingly common, and nervous diseases of all sorts seemed the universal lot of womankind. It is safe to say that nervous troubles and headaches have greatly decreased since the fashion of wearing so much false hair fell into decadence.

Then why revive it again to bring on all sorts of miseries, annoyances and expense, for the cost of hair is by no means a trifle. Fine grades in some colors are worth many times their weight in gold, and as the hair rarely remains of precisely the same color for any number of years, it seems the utmost folly to force oneself to be at a perpetual expense for something that is in itself injurious and has many points of disadvantage.

It is a well understood fact that diet, climate and the condition of health will change the color of the hair within a few months, and what is more disfiguring than a braid or switch two or three shades out of match with one's own hair. By all means let us keep to the simple styles in which we have taken so much delight.

The Small Summer Girl.

Morning dresses for very small girls are now sold with sun bonnets to match. For country wear nothing is more sensible than the sun bonnet, and the baby girl makes a quaint little picture in her gingham frock, with its long skirt, puffed sleeves and old-fashioned sun bonnet tied under her chin.

All the fashionable dresses for children are made to be worn with a gump. The dress is frequently cut with a square yoke, defined by a line of beading, through which ribbon is run. The sleeves are finished with a cuff of the same beading, the ribbon tying in a little bow at the wrist.

Children's skirts are as full as ever, and the sleeves are puffed to such a degree that the wee girl is broad enough for two babies, instead of one.

Baked Heart.

Take one veal heart, wash and carefully remove the vessels. Stuff with two cupfuls of bread crumbs, one-quarter cupful of chopped pork seasoned with salt and pepper, a sprig of thyme or parsley. Moisten with hot water. When filled, cover the ends with white cloth, sewed fast to retain the stuffing. Put in a pan with one pint of water. Dust over flour, salt and pepper. Cover and leave on top of stove until steamed through. Put in the oven, with four potatoes cut lengthwise, to roast. Baste often. When done to a nice brown, remove cloth, put into hot dish with potatoes and serve.

Apple Float.

Core three large apples, bake them, remove the skin and add one cupful of powdered sugar and the white of an egg. Beat all together very light. The longer it is beaten the lighter and whiter it will be. Take one half-pint of milk, the yolk of one egg, one teaspoonful of cornstarch, a very little salt and one spoonful of sugar. Put into a double boiler and stir until it thickens. Flavor according to taste. Place into a glass dish until cold and float the apple upon it.

Hat-Pins Are Dangerous Weapons.

The Daily Graphic grins at us because of the formidable hat-pins we wear. In spiteful hands they become dangerous weapons capable of doing damage quite disproportionate to their size. A woman was sent to prison the other day for stabbing a policeman with a pin, says an English writer. But on the other side, I once heard of a servant maid who, stopped on the road by some ruffian one night, successfully warding off an attack by means of the same Liliputian weapon. Thus may be used for defense as well as offense, and I am not at all sure that a possible good does not neutralize evil.

Dainty Muslin Gowns.

Now we shall wear muslins, and there is everything to tempt us. What do you say to a white, soft Indian muslin with tiny Pompadour bouquets, divided by lace insertion? A fashion-Fifth Avenue modiste makes the collar bands of her gowns to perfection, and she is using a great deal of galon, formed of gold and bronze paillettes, with circles and ovals of pink coral, set in a frame of paillettes.

Holland Up to Date.

The plain gown of holland is out of date. Holland gowns designed for this summer are as elaborate as they are cool. One of the jauntiest of these old-time gowns is made with a cutaway coat, the square-shaped revers being faced with dark-blue vesting, with a tan dot.

The cuffs of the full sleeves are also of the vesting and the waistcoat matches to perfection. An oblong-shaped tab of the holland is fastened back, near the waist line, by unusually large pearl buttons. The gown is exceedingly chic.

An Intellectual Empress.

The empress of Japan, who recently celebrated her silver wedding, is not only a very pretty woman, but very intellectual, and has great strength and beauty of character. Her particular hobby is the Peeresses' school, which she has established in Tokio, and she has a suite of apartments there.

Fried Apples.

Wipe, core and cut into eighths four tart apples. Put a tablespoonful of butter into a frying pan, and when very hot lay the apples in so that they will just touch each other. Brown and turn. Sprinkle with sugar and brown on the other side. If not perfectly tender put on a cover and steam a moment or two. Remove to a warm dish and fry the others the same way and sprinkle all with sugar. Serve very hot.

Cocoanut Sponge.

Thicken one pint of milk in which is dissolved three-quarters of a cup of sugar, with four tablespoonfuls of cornstarch. Cook thoroughly in a double boiler. When cooked and boiling hot, beat this into the whites of three eggs beaten stiff. After standing a few moments add one cup of grated cocoanut. Flavor with vanilla and turn into mold with grated cocoanut on top.

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $30. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inaugural speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

Professor Birkho, the German hair specialist, who has made a wonderful success of curing baldness and causing the hair to grow thick on heads of ladies and gentlemen, has a large business established in the Masonic Temple, Chicago, and with his assistants will give his attention to those who are in need of hair. The professor will examine your scalp free of charge, and should he find that the follicles are not destroyed or the pores of the scalp not closed, your case will be pronounced curable, but where the head is slick and shiny there is no cure. Call and see him or write him 1011 Masonic Temple Chicago.

Far From the Madding Crowd.

Thus what many a nervous sufferer wishes himself every day. But there will soon be no necessity to forsake the busy-albeit somewhat noisy-scenes of metropolitan life, if the nervous invalid will begin, and persist in the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will speedily bring relief to a weak and overstrung nervous system. Day by day the body acquires vigor, through the influence of this reliable tonic, and in the vitality which it diffuses through the system the nerves conspicuously share. Sleep, appetite, digestion—all are promoted by this powerful invigorant, and if they are, who can doubt that the acquisition of health and nerve quietude will be speedy and complete? Constipation, biliousness, malaria, nausea, sickness and cramps in the stomach yield to this remedy.

A Woman Potter.

Mrs. Susan Stuart Frackleton of Milwaukee, who has attained distinction as a potter, is said to have contributed the only unique piece of ceramic art to the World's Fair. She has received numerous medals and diplomas for superior work. The queen of Italy has written her a personal letter, complimenting her and her work on china. "Tried by Fire," is used as a text-book in the South Kensington Art Museum library. She is president of the National League of Mineral Painters. Another woman who has attained distinction as a potter is Mrs. Maria Longworth Storer, the founder of the Rockwood Pottery company of Cincinnati. She is a woman of wealth and leisure, and took to pottery as a hobby. Still another American woman potter is Miss Louise McLaughlin, who has made some original discoveries in decorating under the glaze, and whose American faience, exhibited at the Paris exposition, received a diploma of honorable mention.

When the forest-haunting Thoreau lay on his death-bed, a Calvinistic friend called to make inquiry regarding his soul. "Henry," he said, anxiously, "have you made your peace with God?" "John," replied the dying naturalist in a whisper, "I didn't know that God and myself had quarreled."

BRILLIANTS.
Covetous men need money least, and yet they most affect it. Nothing contributes so much to the duration of life as moderation. To gain wealth does not make us happy, to lose it makes us miserable. The trials of life are the tests which reveal how much of truth there is in us. No man can be regarded as a master of himself till he has conquered his passions. Kindness in ourselves is the honey that blunts the sting of unkindness in others. There is no grief without some beneficial provision to soften its intensity. Do good to those who do you evil, and by this means you will gain a victory over them. No man is thoroughly happy till the discharge of duty becomes his supreme pleasure. As reconciling enemies is the work of God, so separating friends is the work of the devil. Every time you avoid doing wrong you increase your inclinations to do that which is right.

THE WILL OF THE GODS.

sickly sun, when Mme. Bertha Durossey entered thus like a bomb the little midsummer salon of her friend, Mme. la Comtesse Lucie Bernier.

And as the latter, all amazed, received and began to glance over the terrible letter unveiling the infamous treason of M. le Comte Gaston Durossey, Bertha had thrown herself into an easy chair and, the tension of her nerves suddenly relaxed, had begun to cry, to cry furiously those burning, passionate tears that seem to eat into the soul, like acid into copper.

"Well," exclaimed she, when her friend had finished the letter, "what did I tell you? What have you got to say now? It is clear enough, is it not, that rendezvous? And you will no longer continue to drag me about on boat trips and journeys and one thing and another to divert my mind and to persuade me that I was wrong to be jealous? As far as that goes, however, instinct never leads me astray. To deceive me so! Think of it—after three years of marriage and with a woman shaped like this one, always painted and larded to the eyes, and who may have as many children, for all he knows, as the sands of the ocean!"

"But, dearest, dearest," Lucie Bernier protested, "calm yourself, reflect a little."

"I shall revenge myself! Retaliate—turn the tables, you know—"

"Bertha, Bertha; do you realize what you are saying?"

"Perfectly, and I am also perfectly decided. What you say now, Lucie, will alter nothing—"

And Mme. Bernier talked on and on, softly and soothingly, seeking to put to sleep her friend's despair. But Bertha, thrown back in her easy chair, seemed to hear nothing. Her great dark eyes opened wide, staring, without a quiver of the lids, with her hypnotic fixity she gazed before her vaguely and apparently worlds away.

The sound of the horn of a tram car just then passing the house suddenly made her start. She sprang to her feet.

"Where are you going, Bertha, Bertha, dearest?" cried Lucie, startled in her turn.

"Where am I going? To avenge myself."

"You are mad! You have lost your senses, Bertha! Sit down, I beseech you!"

Mme. Durossey was already before the mirror rebuttoning her jacket. "My eyes are all red," said she, "my cheeks shining. A moment in your dressing room, Lucie, dearest, and the loan of a little powder. Also, if you will be so generous, call your maid to bring me a pair of gloves and a fresh handkerchief, please. I have forgotten or lost mine, I know not which. I was so agitated, you see, on quitting the house."

"But you are calmer, more reasonable, now, my dearest," Mme. Bernier began again.

With quick, feverish movements Bertha was rummaging among the crystal flacons, the ivory brushes, swan's-down puffs and fragrant powders. But when she had retwisted and coiled up her rebelliously curly locks, repinned her hat and re-knotted her boa, she turned, still without a word, to the door.

There she stopped.

"Decided—to—betray—Gaston?" said she, with perfect simplicity and firm conviction.

"Your brain has turned, Bertha! How? Where? With whom?"

"I do not know. I am going to take the first passing tram car; one often, I have heard, has adventures there. The very first gentleman who—briefly, when Gaston returns to dinner, the thing will be done—I shall be avenged!"

Her tone was stern, resolute; she firmly disengaged herself from Mme. Bernier's arms, who still sought to detain her, and went out quickly. The doors of the porte cochere closed with the bang of a cannonade. Through the drawn curtains Mme. Bernier saw her friend move toward a tram car, able, now, my dearest," Mme. Bernier began again.

"HERE, READ IT,"

With quick, feverish movements Bertha was rummaging among the crystal flacons, the ivory brushes, swan's-down puffs and fragrant powders. But when she had retwisted and coiled up her rebelliously curly locks, repinned her hat and re-knotted her boa, she turned, still without a word, to the door.

There she stopped.

"Decided—to—betray—Gaston?" said she, with perfect simplicity and firm conviction.

"Your brain has turned, Bertha! How? Where? With whom?"

"I do not know. I am going to take the first passing tram car; one often, I have heard, has adventures there. The very first gentleman who—briefly, when Gaston returns to dinner, the thing will be done—I shall be avenged!"

Her tone was stern, resolute; she firmly disengaged herself from Mme. Bernier's arms, who still sought to detain her, and went out quickly. The doors of the porte cochere closed with the bang of a cannonade. Through the drawn curtains Mme. Bernier saw her friend move toward a tram car, passing precisely at that moment, spring to the platform and vanish inside the vehicle.

An hour later the Countess Lucie was still in her boudoir dreamily reflecting upon the serious negligence of mothers of families, who did not arm their daughters against the shocks they were liable to experience along the matrimonial road in coming across letters arranging rendezvous with their recalcitrant husbands.

The door, all at once, flew back with a bang.

"You!" cried Mme. Bernier, with a surprise wherein was mingled an equal portion of fear and joy.

"Yes, I—to bore you again, my darling."

It was Bertha who had returned. But with how changed a countenance! There was on her features now a tranquil calm, not to say an unmistakable serenity, a satisfaction arising from—what?

Mme. Bernier felt her heart suddenly contract.

"You have reflected? You have given it up—your mad idea?" she cried earnestly, running forward to meet her friend.

"You saw me, I think, dearest," said Bertha, "mount into that tram car. Once in I looked about me. I saw nothing, nothing whatever that in the least promised an adventure. At the moment when, very much put out, I was going to seat myself in the corner, behold, I saw a gentleman, a very good-looking gentleman, as you may guess. He was seated immediately against the entrance. I had a little lost my balance as I entered the car, being unaccustomed to these vehicles, so that I had actually passed without seeing them—the two persons seated just by the door. Which was why, I repeat, I had not seen him, though truly he was very agreeable to look at. Still young, with a heavy moustache, black redingote and light trousers, evidently an officer of the Legion of Honor, or some artist of the Quarter, I suppose, and I retraced my steps, without troubling myself about the thunderous glances cast at me by the mother of the two young girls, and took my seat beside him—my gentleman, you know. He was my vengeance; I felt it—I had decided upon that."

"Well," said Lucie, breathlessly, "and then—go on, Bertha!"

"I am, of course, but I must tell you frankly that he appeared to pay no attention to me whatever, though when we arrived at the station of the Courcelles boulevard he passed my sous for me to the conductor; and he had—my gentleman, I mean, not the conductor—a very white and aristocratic hand, slender, muscular and adorned with a big seal ring of peculiar workmanship."

"I coughed, I drew on and off my gloves—your gloves, rather; coughed again and sought to regard him fixedly there just behind the ear with all my will, having heard it said that one can so influence people—"

"My dear Bertha," said Mme. Bernier, dryly and somewhat sarcastically, "these are charming talents of yours hitherto unsuspected by the world."

"Pooh, what does that matter? I was enraged, I tell you, and he was growing impertinent, that gentleman who would not err. Or was it, I asked myself, that in spite of his air of a regular heart-breaker, he was absurdly timid? In that case then, my faith! strong measures—though heaven knows I have a horror of manifestations—must be tried; in a word, the pedal extremities!"

"Already we were nearing St. Augustine; no time was to be lost. I moved my foot beside his own. I touched it; he did not stir. I pressed it; nothing whatever. I crushed it; not the slightest sign! But I—I was all red and so disturbed, and it seemed to me that I was going to burst out crying there, before everyone."

"Then I reasoned with myself, and told myself that it was doubtless through an extreme reserve, an exquisite delicacy, that he preserved his air of paying no attention to me, of not perceiving, in fact, my little advances; but when I got out at the Madeleine it was very certain that he would follow me then!"

"Reassured by this happy thought and secure of my vengeance, I continued my discreet little pawings till I suddenly in front of the Rue de Seze, he motioned the conductor, who stopped the vehicle, and my gentleman, always without looking at me, but slowly, lingeringly, as if with regret, my gentleman, I repeat, got up and out of the car."

"The rage that I felt! My dearest, do not speak of it. At the same moment the conductor, who had signaled the driver to go on again, said to the cook sitting beside me, whom he seemed to know, and designating the gentleman just reaching the sidewalk and disappearing in the crowd:

"A shame, is it not? Such a handsome man!"

"As this voiced in words my own opinion, I felt myself becoming positively purple. But why had the conductor said this? Had he, by chance, taken notice of—"

The voice of the cook interrupted my guilty self-communings.

"Eh?" said she; "a shame because he's a handsome man?"

"No, parbleu!" responded the conductor, with an imbecile grin; "he's an ex-commandant, you know, Mon. le Col. Ladablette, a regular rider, and has a wooden leg, the left leg, all of wood, though it does not, as you see, show very much."

"A wooden leg! The left leg! The left leg—it was mine—the one that I had been making my useless little signals upon for half an hour past!"

"Lucie, my dearest, the gods have written it—never, never shall I be able to avenge myself by betraying Gaston through means of a tram car!"

A New Ice Box.

There is a new idea in ice boxes that is well worth the attention of housekeepers and house builders. It is often well worth while to have a large reserve ice chest, in which to put a stock of ice to draw from as occasion requires. This is built in the cellar, or in any convenient place in a shed or arway. A suitably sized box is built either of cement and gravel or of a single course of brick properly laid in cement mortar. Cross pieces, either of wood or iron, are put in to support the necessary shelves. At one end of the box an upper-story receptacle for ice may be arranged in the form of a box set over the end of the first box, or the ice may rest upon a shelf in the main part of the chest. The entire inside is smoothly finished in Portland cement, and the outside may have a coat of good mortar to make it smooth and cleanable. It is possible to make an inner surface almost as smooth as glass, and it may be scrubbed with hot water and soap. A drainage pipe is fixed in at one corner of the floor of the ice-holder, being of zinc, and the pipe being properly attached. In a sandy or porous soil the drip may run into the earth, or it may be caught in a pan set under the drainage pipe. A double cover of wood will be required for the chest proper as well as the ice compartment. If built with the house, this arrangement need cost but the merest trifle. One recently made by that useful person the Jack-at-all-trades cost less than $1, and was voted far superior to the ordinary high-class refrigerator.

A Nebraska Artesian Well.

The artesian well at Niobrara, Neb., of which we give an illustration, has a depth of 650 feet, and is utilized in connection with a system of waterworks, electric light, and motor powers, and a large flouring-mill. The well has a flow of twenty-five hundred gallons per minute through an eight-inch pipe, and with a pressure of ninety-five pounds to the square inch the water rises to an elevation of eighty feet. The spectacle as the jet shoots upward and breaks and falls in masses of spray is one of great beauty. The water has a temperature of seventy degrees. The well is owned by the milling company of the enterprising town.

TO HELP WOMEN.

That Is Why This Woman Writes.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.] Few people have any idea of the suffering that oppresses some women.

Pains run rampant through their entire bodies. They suffer secretly as long as they can, and then go all to pieces and don't care what happens.

Yet this misery is easily relieved; thousands of American women proclaim the fact.

The portrait presented here is that of Mrs. J. M. Bender, who lives on the old York Road at Nicetown, Pa. She has been for many years in very poor health.

She had falling of the womb and other forms of female weakness, with headache, severe backache, pains all over her body, and serious kidney trouble.

Her blood was in such a bad state that physicians said she had dropsy. Nearly discouraged she tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to her great surprise it made her a well woman.

She now wishes to tell women all over the world to take the Vegetable Compound and be well. Any druggist has it.

Nothing in all the world has cured so many cases of female weaknesses as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Why don't you try it?

THE SEAL HUNTER'S CANOE.

The seal hunters' kiak is simply a piece of boat-shaped costume. The occupant stows his legs away beneath something like a carriage apron, tucking it tightly around his waist. He can take his skin canoe under his arm and walk away with it.

Not His Fault.

Reginald—Bah jove, Miss Egerly, do you know, I had some cards engraved recently, and the beastly stationer made a mistake and put on "Miss" instead of "Mr."
